

NAHMA Leadership Development Process

1) Member Orientation – The First Step in Developing Future Leaders

A. New Member Orientation – NAHMA should require all new members to attend an organizational orientation session held at a NAHMA meeting. The orientation would provide an overview on how the association works – from structure to mission, with an emphasis placed on getting involved at the committee level.

B. Committee Assignments – All members – new and existing – would be assigned to at least two committees; however if a member is truly not interested in serving on a committee then the assignments would be waived. A Board member should meet with each new member and discuss the new member's interests and potential committee assignments. All members should be encouraged to get involved in the organization. Special emphasis should be placed on new leadership within the committee structure, which can best be achieved by moving new people into the vice chair and chair positions within the organization.

2) The Path to Leadership Development in NAHMA

A. Committee Participation – Staff should review attendance at committee meetings to ensure existing committee members are attending and actively participating. Membership on a committee should be considered an honor and members should be recognized. Committee members should sit at the table at committee meetings with placards identifying themselves. Committee chairs should be encouraged to assign duties and tasks to members of the committee.

B. Committee Leadership –

Prior to being considered for a Board nomination, a member should chair a NAHMA committee.

Prior to chairing a committee, a member should serve as vice chair when possible. The vice chair responsibilities should include submitting minutes to NAHMA staff within 30 days after meetings.

Chair orientation should be required of all chairs and vice chairs, including review of how committees work and the process for moving recommendations and resolutions through NAHMA, and review of Roberts Rules of Order.

Six Key Attributes of Board Members

1. The ability to think strategically and analytically and to effectively communicate thoughts and the reasons for them.
2. Possession of earned respect of other key stakeholder group members
3. The ability to work well with others as a member of a collaborative group with group decision-making authority and an understanding of the fiduciary duties of loyalty, care, and obedience.
4. Demonstrated understanding of the differences between “oversight” and “supervision.”
5. Earned reputation for emotional maturity, personal integrity, and honesty.
6. A demonstrated familiarity with the body of knowledge related to both the process for which the group is responsible as well as the substantive content of the subject area within which decisions and choices will have to be made.
